Fix Job Costing at the Source: The Power of Shop-Trak

THE LAKE COMPANIES

Outdated or delayed time entry distorts job costing and hides margin erosion. When operators record labor on paper — or enter time hours later — cost reports are wrong, WIP is unclear, and management makes decisions on stale data.

Shop-Trak captures labor and job activity in real time, on the floor, where work happens. Accurate data in, accurate margins out.

Real-Time Labor Capture

Record labor as it happens — not at the end of a shift, not from a paper log. Eliminate the lag between work performed and cost reported.

High Operator Adoption

A focused, intuitive interface that operators learn in hours, not weeks. Typical shop-floor implementations complete in a single day. Spend less time fixing transactions and more time managing the shop.

Purpose-Built for the Floor

Shop-Trak is designed for shop-floor execution — not adapted from warehouse or mobility workflows. That focus is why operators adopt it faster and supervisors trust the data sooner.

From Stale Data to Confident Decisions

When labor data is accurate and immediate, everything downstream improves — costing, pricing, planning, and payroll.

Accurate WIP and Margin Reporting

See true job costs as work progresses. Identify margin erosion before it reaches the P&L — not after.

Clean Payroll-to-Job Reconciliation

Eliminate duplicate entry and paper re-key errors. Labor recorded on the floor flows directly to payroll and job cost without manual translation.

Full Traceability

Know who worked on what, when, and for how long. Support audits, quality investigations, and continuous improvement with reliable data — not best guesses.

Integrated Documentation

Pair Shop-Trak with Doc-Trak and keep drawings, work instructions, and specs accessible at the job — no ERP logins, no tribal knowledge.

The result: Faster, more confident pricing decisions, reduced margin leakage, lower admin overhead, and improved audit confidence.
